

Q3.6) Bill of Material (BOM)

A bill of materials primarily consist of all the list of raw materials, parts, components, assemblies, sub-assemblies and all other items required to manufacture, repair or reconstruct an item.

The Bill of Materials definition generally says that it is like a communication card between the planning and designing units and the manufacturing unit. Hence, it might also be a production recipe if required

Single level

Multi-level.

